Going to

incredible lengths

Horizon is a proud sponsor of ASOPRS.

Horizon is a global biotechnology company focused on the discovery, development and commercialization of medicines that address critical needs for people impacted by rare, autoimmune and severe inflammatory diseases. Our pipeline is purposeful: We apply scientific expertise and courage to bring clinically meaningful therapies to patients. We believe science and compassion must work together to transform lives.

WELCOME

Welcome to Québec City! It is great to be together — something that we were not able to do in 2020 when this location was selected and Mark Lucarelli was president. Being together as a society is one of the most important things we do. In a world that is increasingly fragmented, staying unified in our missions of clinical care, education, and research cannot be underestimated. Our strength is in our unity, and we are looked upon as a model for oculoplastic surgery societies by the rest of the world. There is a reason that almost all other oculoplastic surgery societies in the world end with “SOPRS”.

Our society is based on volunteerism. The amount of time that our member volunteers contribute to the society is incredible. There are many people to thank for the functioning of this society. From committee chairs and members to those who are presenting at this meeting, we thank all of you.

Eric Steele had the big (and sometimes stressful) job of creating the program for this meeting. Please congratulate him on a job well done. He had the help of many, including our superstar staff of Tisha, Amanda, and Zach.

This meeting will showcase the unique expertise of some of our most experienced members, as well as highlight the amazing contributions of younger members. In the spirit of interactive challenging clinical cases, a hallmark of early Spring Meetings, there will be a panel of Senior ASOPRS experts sharing their approach to challenging cases presented by Young ASOPRS members. Tamara Fountain, along with Linda Harrison of OMIC will lead a panel on “The Unhappy Patient.” In addition to the scientific program, the meeting will also highlight ASOPRS advocacy efforts and challenges, including ASOPRS Foundation featured speaker Cathy Cohen, who recently retired after three decades of heading AAO Governmental Affairs.

As always, we are very grateful for the industry support from our sponsors and exhibitors and encourage you to visit their booths between sessions.

Thank you for making the long trip across the border to attend this meeting. As a society, we will continue to remain strong, unified, and effective for the benefit of our members and our patients.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Allen, MD, PhD, FACS, ASOPRS President

FEATURED SPEAKER

ASOPRS Foundation Ralph E. Wesley Lecturer: Cathy Cohen

Friday, June 23

8:08 – 8:23 am Ophthalmology Advocacy Past, Present, and Future: The Power of Relationships

10:21 – 10:36 am The Case for Medicare Physician Payment Reform

Catherine Grealy Cohen launched her own firm, Strategies for Innovative Policy Solutions, on April 1 after stepping down from her longstanding position of vice president for governmental affairs for the American Academy of Ophthalmology. With more than twenty-five years in the position and more than 40 years in governmental relations, Ms. Cohen has played significant roles in affecting physician payments under Medicare, ensuring appropriate eye care for veterans, as well as the successful passage of the first blindness prevention benefit under Medicare for detection of glaucoma.

With a passion for disruptive technology, Catherine is interested in continuing work related to Medicare coverage and payment in the AI space, remote therapeutic monitoring, and genomics.

Prior to her position with the Academy, Ms. Cohen served as director of federal affairs at Eastman Kodak Company, where she helped establish an employee political action committee (PAC) for the 100-year-old company and coordinated the grassroots program. She initially served as director of health affairs, coordinating development of Kodak's health care reform position for use at both the state and federal level. She also reported to the president of Kodak's medical device company and acted as their lobbyist, helping to repeal a law and change regulations that disadvantaged the company. Before her tenure at Kodak, Ms. Cohen was director of the American Society of Clinical Pathologist's Washington office where she supervised the organization's federal and state lobbying efforts and helped pass the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act and Stark law. She started her lobbying career with the Academy in 1979 after four years on Capitol Hill.

Ms. Cohen earned a master's degree in health services administration from George Washington University and is widely published on Medicare reimbursement, legislative, and regulatory issues.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Symposium Objectives

- To provide a forum for presentation of new concepts, ideas, techniques, and research in functional and aesthetic reconstructive oculofacial plastic surgery
- To discuss current practice management techniques and coding methods, access to care, safety, and professionalism in oculoplastic surgery
- To illustrate new advancements in medical and surgical management of orbital and eyelid tumors and inflammations
- To provide an update on the advancing field of oculoplastic surgery
- To allow ample time for discussion with experts of oculofacial and reconstructive surgery in a collegial atmosphere

Continuing Medical Education

Continuing Medical Education information and Financial Disclosures can be found in the 2023 Spring Scientific Symposium Syllabus.

Meeting Evaluation/CME Certificate

A link to an evaluation will be provided to attendees after the meeting via email. Please complete the evaluation in its entirety. You will have an opportunity to download a CME certificate once you have completed the evaluation. Your feedback is carefully considered when planning future meetings. Thank you in advance for helping ASOPRS improve our Spring Scientific Symposium.

Education Disclaimer

Registrants for this symposium understand that medical and scientific knowledge is constantly evolving and that the views and techniques of the instructors are their own and may reflect innovations and opinions not universally shared. The views and techniques of the instructors are not necessarily those of ASOPRS but are presented in this forum to advance scientific and medical education. ASOPRS disclaims any and all liability arising out the information presented in this meeting. Registrants also understand that operating rooms and health care facilities present inherent dangers and as such they shall confirm to all proper medical practices and procedures for the treatment of patients for whom no medical history is available.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Industry Disclaimer

Industry promotional opportunities, including but not limited to tradeshow and lunch & learns, are provided for informational purposes. ASOPRS does not undertake to verify the claims of, or assess the products or services offered by, any company presenting during ASOPRS' meetings, nor does ASOPRS' receipt of a fee from, and provision of space to, such companies constitute an endorsement or recommendation by ASOPRS. Attendees must make their own independent judgments as to the advisability of entering into a business transaction.

Photography and Social Media Policy

ASOPRS' policy for the use of photography and social media at the Scientific Symposium is intended to strike a balance between the needs of scientists, physicians and other health care professionals, patients and advocates for the latest oculofacial plastics information and the needs of presenters to protect their proprietary content from unauthorized use.

- Non-flash photography is allowed for personal, social, or noncommercial use.
- Respect presenters who state they do not want their slides and/or content shared on social media.
- Attendees taking photos must do so in a non-disruptive manner so as not to disturb the presenter and other attendees.
- Slides with patient faces or other identifiable information cannot be shared on social media due to HIPAA regulations.
- Video recording, live audio and/or video streaming is strictly prohibited.
- Failure to comply with this policy may result in being removed from the session and/or meeting.

AWARDS

ASOPRS Outstanding Contribution Award

This award is given to an individual or individuals who make a legendary single, or longstanding multiple contributions to ASOPRS.

The recipients of this year's ASOPRS Outstanding Contribution Award are Keith D. Carter and César A. Briceño for their role as founding members of the Minority Ophthalmology Mentoring program of the AAO.

Keith D. Carter

Keith D. Carter, MD, is the Lillian C. O'Brien and Dr. C.S. O'Brien Chair in Ophthalmology and Professor and Chair of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences at the University of Iowa Carver College of Medicine and University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics.

Dr. Carter earned a Bachelor of Science degree in pharmacy from Purdue University and a medical degree from Indiana University. He completed an ophthalmology residency at the University of Michigan, and a fellowship in oculoplastics and orbital surgery at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics. He has been a faculty member at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics since 1988. He served as Residency Program Director for 14 years and was appointed Chairman of the Department of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences in January 2006. He is board certified by the American Board of Ophthalmology and is a fellow of the American Society of Ophthalmic Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery and American College of Surgeons. He has trained over 20 oculoplastic fellows and countless residents.

He is past President of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and past President of the Association of University Professors of Ophthalmology.

He currently serves as the chair of the Executive Committee for the Minority Ophthalmology Mentoring Program.

César A. Briceño

Dr. César A. Briceño is an Associate Professor of Clinical Ophthalmology at the University of Pennsylvania. He completed his undergraduate studies at Harvard University and his medical degree at Johns Hopkins University, followed by residency training at the University of Southern California and fellowship training in oculoplastics at the University of Michigan under Dr. Christine Nelson. He serves as Assistant Dean of Diversity and Cultural Affairs and Advisory Dean at the Perelman School of Medicine, as well as Medical Director of the Scheie Eye Institute at the Penn Presbyterian Medical Center. He has been an advocate for diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) in ophthalmology, serving as a founding executive committee member of the Minority Ophthalmology Mentoring program of the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO) and a founding member of the AAO LGBTQ+ interest group. Dr. Briceño has spoken and published nationally on LGBTQ+ inclusion in ophthalmology and is committed to promoting diversity in the surgical subspecialties.

AWARDS

Orkan G. Stasior Leadership Award

This award is given to an individual who has demonstrated distinguished service in the field of ophthalmic plastic and reconstructive surgery through education, research, humanitarian activities and/or service to the Society. This award is presented in recognition of the leadership of ASOPRS charter member, Orkan G. Stasior, MD.

The recipient of this year's Orkan G. Stasior Leadership Award is Kathleen M. Duerksen.

Kathleen M. Duerksen

Dr. Kathleen M. Duerksen is in solo private practice in Tucson, AZ. She has been on the clinical faculty at the University of Arizona for nearly 30 years and has participated in the training of many ophthalmology residents. Dr. Duerksen was an associate preceptor for Dr. Robert Dryden's Tucson ASOPRS fellowship. She has served on the AAO Council as the ASOPRS representative for the past 6 years. Dr. Duerksen continues to appreciate her 2 year ASOPRS fellowship with Dr. Orkan G. Stasior. She is also grateful to her plastic surgery mentors during her residency at Bascom Palmer: Drs. Jan Kronish, John Martin, and Myron Tannenbaum.

Richard K. Dortzbach Teaching Award

The Dortzbach Teaching Award is given to an individual with significant contribution to the field of oculoplastics through outstanding teaching, academic, scientific, and scholarly achievement and for dedication throughout his or her profession.

The recipient of this year's Richard K. Dortzbach Teaching Award is Victor M. Elnor.

Victor M. Elnor

Victor M. Elnor is the Ravitz Foundation Professor of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences and Professor of Pathology at the University of Michigan. He is an ASOPRS fellowship associate preceptor and has received three previous ASOPRS research awards. He is a member of the Orbital Society and a founding member and former board member of the International Thyroid Eye Disease Society. Board-certified by the American Board of Pathology, he has been Director of Ophthalmic Pathology in the Department of Pathology at the University of Michigan for 35 years. Having received the Marc Perry Galler Prize for his Ph.D. dissertation in Biological Sciences at the University of Chicago in 1986, he performed NIH-supported research for 20 years and has published almost 250 articles on numerous aspects of ocular inflammation, neoplasia, imaging, and topics in oculoplastic and orbital surgery. He credits his inspiration and success to his mentors in oculoplastic surgery, Drs. Richard Dortzbach, Bradley Lemke, and Russell Gonnering and to his mentors in pathology, Drs. Lorenz Zimmerman, Ian McLean, Ahmad Hidayat, Werner Kirsten, Robert Wissler, and Seymour Glagov.

I thank the Awards Committee for recognizing my efforts in communicating important findings to my colleagues and mentoring trainees.

AWARDS

James A. Katowitz Pediatric Award

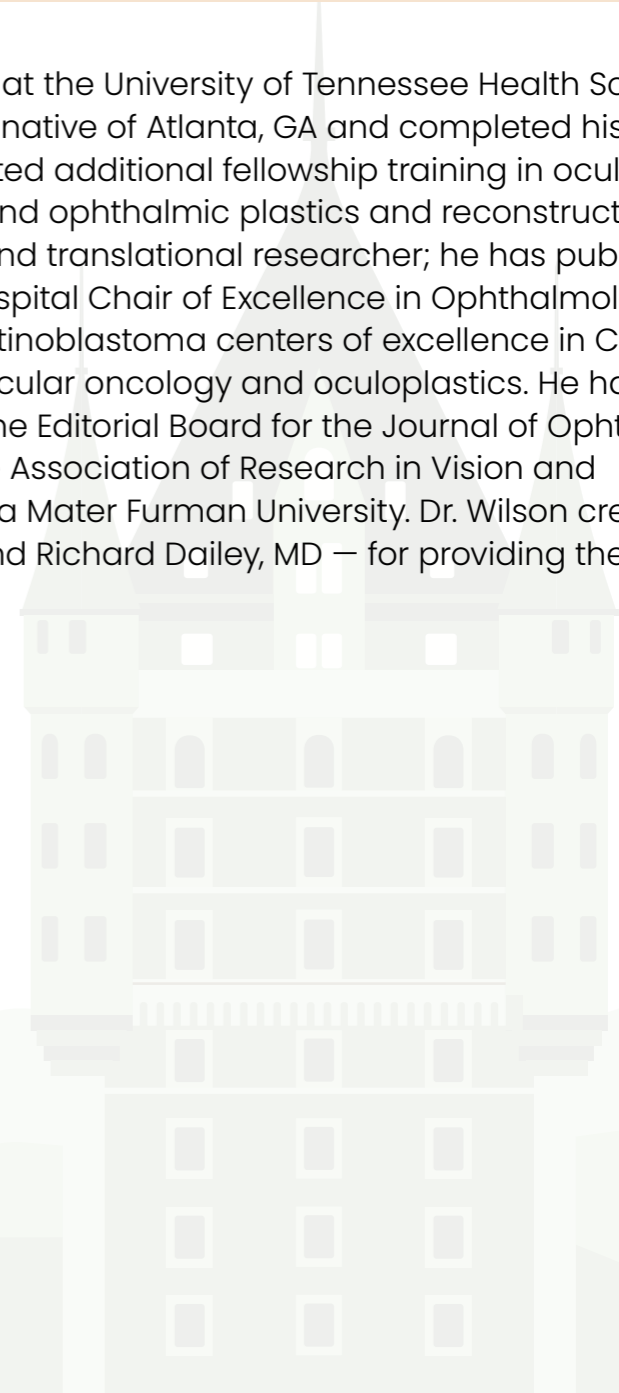

This award shall be given to an individual for longstanding contributions in pediatric oculo-facial plastic surgery.

The recipient of this year's James A. Katowitz Pediatric Award is Mathew W. Wilson.

Mathew W. Wilson

Mathew W. Wilson, MD, FACS is the Barrett G Haik Chair and Professor of Ophthalmology at the University of Tennessee Health Sciences Center in Memphis, TN. He is also the Director of the Hamilton Eye Institute. Dr. Wilson is a native of Atlanta, GA and completed his medical degree, residency, and ophthalmic pathology fellowship at Emory University. He completed additional fellowship training in ocular oncology at St Bartholomew's Hospital and Moorfields Eye Hospital in London, England and ophthalmic plastics and reconstructive surgery at Casey Eye Institute/ Oregon Health Science University. Dr. Wilson is a clinical and translational researcher; he has published over 150 peer reviewed manuscripts. Dr. Wilson holds the St Jude Children's Research Hospital Chair of Excellence in Ophthalmology. He is the Director of the St Jude Global Retinoblastoma Program and has helped to build retinoblastoma centers of excellence in Central America, the Middle East and Southeast Asia. He has trained numerous fellows in both ocular oncology and oculo-plastics. He has served on numerous committees for the American Academy of Ophthalmology as well as on the Editorial Board for the Journal of Ophthalmic Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Dr. Wilson is currently on the Board of Trustees for the Association of Research in Vision and Ophthalmology. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees at his undergraduate Alma Mater Furman University. Dr. Wilson credits he mentors – Hans Grossniklaus, MD, John Hungerford, FRCS, FRCOphth, John Wobig, MD, and Richard Dailey, MD – for providing the training opportunities that have propelled his career.

THANK YOU TO OUR EXHIBITORS

Axogen Inc.

Axogen is revolutionizing the science of nerve repair. We are a global leader in developing and marketing innovative surgical solutions for peripheral nerve injuries. Axogen employees are passionate about helping to restore peripheral nerve function and quality of life to patients with physical damage or transection to peripheral nerves by providing innovative, clinically proven, and economically effective repair solutions for surgeons and health care providers. Axogen's platform for peripheral nerve repair features a comprehensive portfolio of products available in the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, South Korea, and several other European and international countries.

BBC Global Services

BBC Global provides clinics with managed offshore staffing assistance. We are the only BPO in the country that provides clinics with HIPAA-certified virtual assistants that work in a centralized location. We specialize in working with ophthalmologists and surgeons alike, providing them with cost-effective, dedicated staff so that the in-house staff can focus more on core competencies. Tasks include: insurance verifications, EMR management, patient scheduling/communication, referrals, e-faxes, collections, and more!

FCI S.A.S.

FCI S.A.S. is a world leader in the development of a wide range of ophthalmic surgical devices.

Since the company's inception in 1984, we are committed to responding to the ever-changing needs of eye care professionals with innovative research and advanced materials.

Following the acquisition of Katalyst Surgical, Inc. in 2022, FCI is excited to announce the expansion of its vitreoretinal portfolio with advanced surgical retina products. Our newly expanded portfolio includes a wide range of vitreoretinal instrumentation, laser probes, illuminated laser probes, chandeliers, backflushes, and cannulas to provide added value to vitreoretinal surgeons.

In addition to our vitreoretinal portfolio, we also offer a full range of other eye care products, including retinal detachment devices, lacrimal stents and tubes, orbital implants, ptosis repair devices, and dry eye products.

Poriferous LLC

Su-Por Surgical Implants are long-term implantable medical devices for the augmentation and restoration of the craniomaxillofacial area. We produce them from pure porous high-density polyethylene, the gold standard of polymer biocompatibility. The devices are available in sheets, blocks, spheres, and anatomical shapes. The porous structures' unique nature allows for the patients' own fibrovascular to integrate, eliminate migration, reduce infection, and improve clinical performance.
